SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD
BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

Speaking of Hugh White, who remembers that the all-white state park on the south side of the river has appropriately been named Hugh White State Park.

A lot of folks cuss old Hugh White but, on the whole, Hugh seems to have been doing a pretty good job.

Mabel just remarked that Lowrey Dye, Jay Gore's main man since Will Hill died, is SO nice.

Mrs. Carpenter, who dont let any grass grow under her feet, was in from Providence Tuesday.

Speaking of Providence, wander how the oil well there is coming on.

Jay Gore, who was almost down & out for a while, seems to be on the move again, but he would be in a heluva shape indeed without Grace's eternal perseverance.

Jim Moss presently is sticking on the marble finish to the ornate building to house Grenada Bank.

Who remembers when old man Bob Fletcher, a colored man who was once Circuit Clerk of Grenada County, lived on and owned at least some of the property now owned by recent renewr and stockman, D. D. Smith on Route One.

Burt Boyce, the lucky rascal, won the fine cake in the polio drive awarded by the colored folks under the general supervision of Dr. L. L. Rayford.

All I know about the McMath family, and I dont know that, is that the family was connected in some way with the Watt Richardson family perhaps a McMath married old man Watt. All came from 'out east.'

If it were not for these big PAY YOUR SUBSCRIPTION ads we would be in a heluva shape.

A. M. Hayward, who strayed off to Lodi, sent his good-looking wife, a former Pyron, by to pay their dues; and, for that matter Gene Pyron, who looks after Rvierdale, the Stokes old plantation, paid his dues recently.

Cap Jones, the janitor-cotton raiser of the court house, is back on the job after a visit to the hospital.

I dont know, but merely think that Tom King might be induced to run for sheriff in 1955. He is what Keene Huffington calls 'showing signs.'

The Negroes try to do their part in any community drive. Recently, the Negroes collected $242 in the Emergency Drive for polio victims.

Abe Isenberg and his boy, Buddy, have returned to Los Angeles after idling and fishing in the Grenada area. In spite of what may have been hinted in the GCW, Abe is a fair to middling fisherman when he dont waste all his itme boat riding with his illustrous brother, Merchie. Andrew and Merchie should have a contest to determine which can boat ride the greatest distance in an alloted space of time.

Wonder how Brother Owsley, over in Alabama, is getting along.

I'll bet John Rundle of Grenada and Tom Pearson of Holcomb have strained their eyes looking for their paying up reecntly. Here both are.

Mack Timmons of the free state not only paid his dues but seems to be working for Boone there.

Fisherman Dattel occasionally takes time off from fishing to look after his progressive store.

WILDLIFE LEAGUE GETS LEASE TO DAM SITE

Hon. Jamie Whitten Among Large Attendance

Grenada Wildlife League, of which Frank Evans is president, E. H. White is vice president nad J. Waring Taylor is secretary and treasurer had a dual-purpose meeting Tuesday night at the commodious City Hall in Grenada.

The big shot speaker was Hon. Jamie Whitten, member of Congress from this district.

The many tables provided for use of members and guests were filled with eager folks. Their eagerness was quickly rewarded with ample 'stew' a la Harry Mills, Coca Cola and fixings.

The guest table facing the members was presided over by President Frank Evans and was occupied by Evans, Congressman Whitten, Vice-President White, Frank Vestal, sporting-crap writer of the Commercial Appeal, and a number of engineer guests from the home office of the U. E Engineers in Vicksburg.

During the proceedings at the front table, Joe Roswell of the Vicksburg office turned over to Mr. Evans the lease 'papers' to the site near 'lone pine' on Grenada Lake, on which the league proposes to erect a club house for its members.

The club house will be erected on a high spot immediately south of 'lone pine'. A channel will be cut from the lake itself to the premises of the club house, providing outlet for boats tied up at the club house. It is contemplated that the present No. 8 highway, now usable, will eventually yield to the vicissitudes of time and the waves from the lake and the channel will be cut THRU, not UNDER the concrete pavement.

The members of the league and its committees are to be congratulated on a fine abundant affair. 'Seconds', for those whose capacaties would justify them, were there for the hungry ones. Even after repeated depredations from hungry gusts, there was a lot of stew left which was sold to non-members Wednesday morning.

Fourth Polio Case In County

Braxter Irby, Jr., age 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Braxter Irby, was stricken with polio last Wednesday and was taken to Le Bonheur Hospital in Memphis by his parents, where the Grenada doctor's diagnosis was affirmed by Dr. Levy.

Mrs. Irby is quarantined with her son for a 2 weeks period and in this period the type of polio with which he is stricken will be announced.

Braxter, Jr., a pupil in the 5th grade, is the 4th polio case of Grenada County. His many friends are praying for his recovery.

Supposed To Be Right

Mabel has really sweated over revising the printed mailing list, which had got into a real mess. As of last Friday morning, when revision was complete, our mailing list is supposed to be right.

Hope it is right.!

THANKS

I want t othank all of my committee in helping me with the emergency polio drive. Total amount collected: $242.00.

We also want to thank the merchants for the prizes they gave for the Bazaar.

—Signed: Dr. Rayford.

W. E. Jackson, our neighbor, visited back at the hospital a day or so recently.

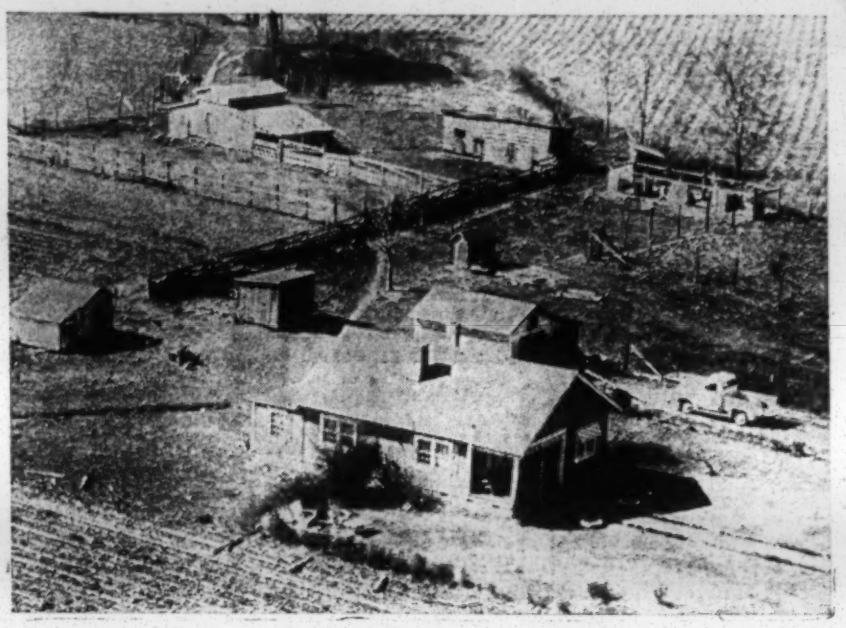
GRENADA COUNTY "FARM OF THE WEEK"

Number 21 In A Series Of 52



—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada.

If this is YOUR farm, you can get, without charge, a nicely mounted picture of the farm, but you must come to the Grenada County Weekly and identify it.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family.

If you need other photographs of the above, either the size shown, or larger, or on postal cards, the GCW can, and will arrange for them. A reasonable charge of course, will be made for these reproductions. Let us show you samples.

Baptists To Have "Open House" Sunday Afternoon

The general public will have an opportunity Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12, to view the commolious new facilities of First Baptist Church of Grenada when open house is held from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Special services will be held at the 11 a. m. Worship Hour with the paseor, Dr John Landrum, bringing the message.

The program was begun under the leadership of Rev. Glen E. Wiley who led the church to raise some $40,000. When Dr. Landrhm shoceeded him as Pastor on November 1, 1952 one of the first moves was to accompany the Building Committee to Nashville to confer with the Department of Church Architecture of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board. After much assistance from them, Charles H. Dean Jr. of Jackson was employed as architece, who designed and supervised inspection of the facilities costing nearly a quarter million dollars fully equipped.

Day Construction Co. of Grenada was the prime contractor on the 20,000 square foot new addition, along with extensive remodeling of connecting facilities. The program, begun in July, 1953, was completed for occupancy in late June.

The completely fire-resistant structure of concrete, steel, and masonry construction boosts the educational capaciey of the Church to 1125 under ideally equipped conditions. This does not include a completely separate Church Music department consisting of a large choir room, robing rooms and a practice room which contains a piano and Hammond Organ.

The Library has a gneeral room, youth room, and reference room. The office suite consists of a General office, two Secretaries' offices, office for Minister of Music and Education, and Pastor's Study. Then cna be entered through the Church or through a separate outside entrance for week time use. The office suite and Library are air-conditioned with a unit separate from the other five zoned areas so that comfort may be maintained year round without heating or cooling the other areas of the building.

Kremser's of Clarksdale was the contractor on the chilled water-hot water air conditioning and heating system. The heating system of the old building was demolished, and the entire plant is now supplied with this most modern type of equipment. Not only the auditorium, but every department and every class is air conditioned.

During recent weeks as the new facilities were occupied, the educational program has been vastly expanded and the Sunday School graded. There are now the following departments: 5 Nursery, 4 Beginner, 4 Primary 2 Junior, 2 Intermediate, 2 Young People and 3 Adult, and a total of 75 classes above 6 year-Primary age.

Vinyl asbestos floor covering is throughout the building, and the best in furnishings and equipment is in every department and class. The existing building, constructed in 1940, has been redecorated, and is tied in so well with the new facilities, that it makes one complete building with the Church owing less than -70,000 on the entire program.

John G. Hardy served as chairman of the Building Committee, along with J. B. Perry Jr., Dr. J. K. Avent O. L. Kimbrough and John T. Keeton Jr.

SPECIAL REWARDS FOR KEEPING EGG RECORDS

Keeping a daily egg and feed record on your layer flock may now bring greater rewards than ever. A new laying feed ingredient, called Calogen, brings with its announcement an offer to test the efficiency of your egg feeds.

T. F. Worsham and Son, local Swift's Feed Dealer, announces that he is accepting registrations for Pace-Setter Flocks. All owners of laying flocks numbering 200 birds or more are eligible. A simple daily egg and feed record is supplied to each flock owner. After this record is kept for a four-month period, the summary is turned in for a quality merchandise gift. A wide variety of gifts are available for selection, including such items as a clock-radio, ladies' or men Elgin watch, electric shaver, electric fryer and numerous others.

Choice of gift, according to Mr. Worsham, depends on size of flock and amount of feed purchased. The gift is presented as the flockowner's reward for keeping a daily record. The Pace-Setter Flock program, according to report, is in no way a contest. Everyone who completes the egg record may choose a gift. The offer is extended to poultry raisers to determine the feed-saving ability of Calogen under practical farm conditions.

Keeping a record on the laying flock has always been recommended as a sound farm management idea. With the Pace-Setter Flock program, Worsham believes it may well prove to be more worthwhile than ever.

Griffis Meek, who dont let fishing interfere with his work, has not walked into White Lake in several months. Griffis, unlike many folks born with silver spoons in their mouths, dont care much for 'positions', but he likes working jobs.

GUY GREEN, JR. IS TRAFFIC VICTIM HERE

Rushed To Hospital Sunday Afternoon, Died Monday

Guy Green, Jr., small son of Mrs. Mary Jane Perry Green, was seriously injured as he played in the street near the home of his great grandmother Mrs. J. B. Perry, Sr. Sunday afternoon and was struck by a car driven by a young man, Robert Grant of Duck Hill. The conclusion that the accident was unavoidable seemed to be the result of what onlookers said.

The child's mother is Mrs. Mary Jane Perry Green who is editor and owner of the Webster Progress, a weekly newspaper in Eupora, Webster County. The child's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Ben Perry. The child was the apple of his grandfather's eye. The father is Guy Green, Jr., an officer now serving his country in Germany. Interment has been postponed until the arrival of his father, now enroute from overseas.

Guy Jr., a bright little boy, was just about four years of age at the time of his death Monday in Grenada Hospital where he was carried Sunday afternoon following the accident.

Funeral services were held at the 1st Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon with Rev. John Landrum in charge. Pall-bearers were members of the Grenada fire department.

Sympathy is extended the bereaved ones of the family.

Army Recruiting Station Moves To Evans Building

The U. S. Army Recruiting Station has recently moved from the Post Offiece Building, across the street to room 12 of the Evans Building, it was announced today by SFC Ron Kuebler, local Army Recruiter.

The new Recruiting Office will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. every Tuesday and Thursday. The Grenada Station serves four counties including Grenada and Sgt. Kuebler will travel to Water Valley, Calhoun City, and Charleston on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays respectively.

Town Talk
BY FED ROBINSON

People ARE funny - one writer says we yell our heads off for speed laws that will stop fast driving and then refuse to buy a car if it can't make at least 100 miles an hour. We know there is at least one such car in our town as it passed my bedroom window this morning at two o'clock waking me with the thought an airplane was trying for an emergency landing in the front yard. Nothing mentioned in the papers this morning about any one being killed through, so guess the driver was lucky again. Our police department warns us they have Radar equipment now installed on most of the 'speedways' around our town and this gimmick will pick up the sound of a motor and register the correct speed its going. Not sure whether it writes down the license number. We've had 259 deathless days no win our city proper and we are asked to help try to make it 360 days - hoping one day at a time that people will be more careful. Well, if we keep up with the expected rate over 39,000 Americans will be killed on our highways this year and if this continues we will be saying that people are CRAZY instead of merely funny. Well, once upon a time the people of the world became so reckless and wicked our God decided to re-populate the earth with a new crop of folks so He selected noly one family, brought them into safety and flooded the whole earth - even to the mountain tops - and all were destroyed except the Noah family who appeared to be worthy seed for new generations. We'l, we know His purpose was fulfilled as all of them are - but we have gotten right back in the same old rut and when it pleases Him God may decide to clean up his world again. He may use fire this time and who can think of a better fire starter than the atom bomb. Yes, there's something terribly wrong with man or else he would have accomplished much more tha nhe has with all the opportunities he has had.

We acknowledge a very nice letter from Sgt. John and Elizabeth Wilson former Grenadians now located at 308 Howard St., Walla Walla, Wash. John's name is signed to it but we know Elizabeth wro'e it. We'd have liked a southern station, but suppose we were needed in the Sixth Army area more——we have missed (this column) several weeks, for some reason it was left out——it helps take the sharpness off our homesickness and loneliness for you good folks back South . . ' Well, John and Elizabeth we know how you feel for we too have lived far away from home and friends and know the feeling of yearning for a return of the days that are no more. Bless you for the nice things you said about the column, and all good wishes to you both. We have always thought the Good Lord scattered about his favorite people as a sort of pillar to support those less lovable of character, so maybe you two are destined to take some leading parts in the new Southern Baptist Churches you mentioned.

More Rural Telephones in Mississippi

The role of the farm telephone has become more important with every agricultural advance in our state. It saves time when broken things need fixing; when supplies give out, or help is needed in a hurry.

Knowing so well how much the telephone means to folks in the country, you can count on your telephone company to do its best to provide service for more rural Mississippians as fast as possible.

For example, we are now serving over five times as many rural homes and business houses as in 1945... Mississippi had 8335 rural telephones then; now, we have approximately 44,000 of them... And we're adding more daily to meet the fast-growing demand.

TO GROW ON!
The money to expand and improve telephone service must be secured from investors. To keep them furnishing needed new capital, we must earn a fair profit on money invested in telephone property.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

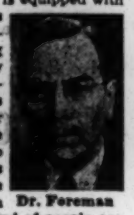
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

The Bible Speaks... Scripture: Acts 6:1-6; Romans 12:9-18; 13:1-10; I Corinthians 3:4-9; Galatians 5:13-15. Devotional Reading: Isaiah 41:6-10.

Christian Citizens

Lesson for September 12, 1954

SUPPOSE the dream of some scientists comes true, and there is built a "space platform" buzzing around the earth, some thousand miles away, like a little moon? Suppose this thing is equipped with telescopic sights and atomic weapons? Such a thing — and it is now technically possible—would give its possessors power over the whole earth such as no conqueror has ever had. The question then would be: What kind of people are running the thing? Do they really take an interest in the human race, or suppose they didn't care, and started blasting away some fine morning just for fun? E. B. White's famous story, "The Morning of the Day They Did It," imagines what would happen then.



Dr. Foreman

Learning to Belong

That may not be true as prophecy, —a continent, a planet, blown out of existence because two men who do not care anything about it, or anything else, take a notion to blast it. But it is quite true as a picture of human attitudes. Neither soldier nor senator nor common citizen will do anything to help a country or people for whom he feels no special attraction; and he may very easily injure or destroy it without much conscience. In war, this is a picture of how each nation looks at the enemy; in "peace," it is a picture of the lack of social responsibility which plagues every country in the world. "Do what you like with it—it isn't mine," may possibly be all right when you are talking about your neighbor's tomato-patch or automobile. But when you are talking about your neighbor's nation, you are talking about something that is just as much yours as his. We all begin life as little egotists, each of us the center of his little high-chair universe. By degrees we learn to say "we" about our family, our gang, maybe our town or high school or lodge. But it takes church members a long time—some of them—to say "we" about the church, and even longer for even Christian citizens to say "we" about their country. Having no special feeling for it, they don't care what happens to it, and may even take part in doing it harm, just because they have never learned to belong to it.

Christian Citizens Needed

The Apostle Paul was a citizen of a great empire, and he was proud of the fact. He believed that every Christian, whether a citizen or not, had certain duties of obedience, responsibility and support, toward the Roman Empire. If this was true in those days, when the government was non-Christian, corrupt and oppressive, when Christians had for the most part no chance whatever in sharing the responsibilities of government, how much more true it is in a democracy! With professed Christians numbering about half the total population, with the vote in our hands and our representatives no farther away than the nearest mail-box, we have even more reason and opportunity to make our presence and our ideas felt, as Christian citizens, than could have been possible in the time of Paul and Nero. Any Christian who is old enough to vote and educated enough to read and write, might well ask himself a few questions to see if he is much of a Christian.

Quiz for Christian Citizens

Do you know the names of your senator, your congressman? Did you vote for them? Why? Do you know whether they are Christians by profession? Do you know how they have been voting on important questions? If so, do you find that they have been taking a Christian attitude as reflected in their votes?

Have you ever taken the time and spent the money to write or wire your congressman or senator to let him know how you and your neighbors stand on important matters? Have you felt that international affairs were somehow beyond your scope, or have you realized that bad relationships between nations have always brought death to happy homes? Do you realize that our nation, and others, have developed weapons of such terrible force that to use them can destroy the race of man? Do you have any idea what your congressman and senator, your personal representatives, are thinking and doing?

Sears' New Fall-Winter Catalog Out

A second Southern 'tribute to trees' section highlights Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s 1954 fall and winter general catalog being distributed this week to customers in this area.

How scientists in Southern forests proved money DOES grow on trees is graphically explained on the cover and an inside, two-page spread, Grace Martin, Sears local mnaager announced.

From three to four million men and women owe their livelihood either directly or indirectly to wood, the heavily-illustrated section points out.

Second in a series on the South's forests which began in the 1954 spring and summer general catalog, this special section appears in the current general catalogs being distributtd by the Atlanta, Greensboro and Memphis mail order houses of Sears.

Merchandise wise, the big story in the fall catalog is prices. According to Sears, prices in this new book are the lowest since 1950.

A comparison of a broad sampling of current prices with those of the two most recent general catalogs showed that prices in the new book average around 2½ per cent lower than last spring's edition and 3½ per cent lower than the 1953 fall book.

Among the ines in the new book showing reductions from last year's fall catalog are furniture, down 3 percent; houseware, 5 percent; plum bing and heating equipment, 6 per cent; tires and tubes, 2 per cent; electric appliances and wiring, 10 per cent; refrigerators and freezers, 6 percent; infants' and children's wear, 4 per cent; radios and televisions sets, 4 percent; boy's clothing, 5 per cent; jewelry, 7 percent lingerie, 3:5 percent; domestics, 8 percent; yard goods, 5 percent; and men's furnishings, 8 percent.

FOR SALE: Up to 150 head, wormed and castrated, feeder hogs. Open and bred gilts and sows, Duroc Jersey type, subject to registration. Bulldogs To Journey To N. Carrollton Friday Night

(By Hugh Ketchum)

An untested pack of Grenada Bulldogs, picked to finish in second division of Little Ten rompetition, will open the 1954 season at North Carrollton Friday night in a non-conference tussle. The Bulldogs defeated the Senators last year 32 to 25, in the first meeting of the two teams.

Coaches Bob Eliard and Jerry Taylor have the Bulldogs in excellent physical condition for the opener, but it will be the first outing for the squad. The Senators, coached by John Abel and A. J. Kilpatrick, have a 19 to 0 triumph over Marks already chalked up for this season.

The Senators will be maning their home debut and will be eager to upend the Bulldogs. Then letter-men are back with the Carroll County squad, including five linemen and 5 backs. The speedy aggregation is especially strong at tackle and in the backfield.

The Bulldogs appear to be equal to last year in the line, but only a couple of the lads in the forward wall have been thoroughly tested in competition. The backfield shapes up as one of the better quartets in this section with four letter-men back, including Ray Freeman, 170-pound fullback who was an unanimous selection for All Little Ten honors last year, and a group of reserves who could blossom out as first string material any week.

Starting positions for the Bulldogs are still wide open. Virtually every position has four or more boys apparently capable of holding down the slots.

At the ends it's a toss-up among James Bailey, Jim Brasfield, James Sadler, Bobby Harper and J. F. Morrison, the latter returning to the squad yesterday. The tackle slots are likely to go to Charles Ferrell and Gary Waldrop, but Sam Caruthers, Jimmy Moore and Bill Henley are still in the think of the fight for the opening berths.

Four boys are showing up well at guards. They are Marvin Cutler, James Gray, Raymond Whitten and Tom Carroll. All of the boys will see plenty of action. Forbes is the probable starter at center, backed by James Lawrence.

The ackfield is expected to line up with John Goza at quarter, Bill Raper and Shafer Spence at halfbarks and Freeman at fullback. James Spence, Jake Gibbs, Hayes Branscome, Sayles Martin and Ray Edwards are certain to see action, with the possibility of Gibbs starting in place of Raper, who is nursing an injured knee.

SAVE A STEP—SAVE A HEART

Is your kitchen planned to be a "step-saver"? Extra work is often created through poor organization of equipment.

Every homemaker looks for easier methods in kitchen chores. Fortunately, however, every homemaker is not suffering from a cardiac condition, which requires caution in the type of work she does. When the doctor says "take it easy," it does not mean she will have less work to do. It does mean she must find the best possible way to do it.

The equipment editor of the Woman's Home Companion, the American Heart Association and a kitchen cabinet company designed an ideal "heartsaver kitchen." The innumerable work-saving ideas in this plan are practical even for a healthy homemaker. The "U" shaped design is based on an average budget. Careful organization of all equipment keeps walking, lifting and bending at a minimum.

Featured in this kitchen we find:

1. The refrigerator with extensive storage capacity saves frequent shopping trips. A separate freezer compartment holds a large supply of easily prepared frozen food.

2. The automatic dishwasher-sink combination provides ease in food preparation and clean-up. A waste disposer installed in the sink eliminates trips to the garbage can.

3. A relaxation center equipped with a comfortable chair and foot stool is an invitation to rest a few minutes between chores.

Other ideas practical for any kitchen are:

1. A mixing center built at a lower level than other counter tops is located at the left of the refrigerator. Ease of stirring and mixing is provided by this lower level. Equipment necessary to mixing, bowls, beaters, measuring cups, spoons—are stored within easy reach. Baking pans and pie plates are stored in overhead, file type cabinets.

2. Utmost advantage is taken of corner space by use of revolving shelves. Large pans and bowls stored here are easily accessible.

3. The range features a high oven and high broiler to eliminate bending and lifting. By use of the automatic clock control the homemaker is able to relax or go on with other chores while her range does her "clock watching."

4. A roll-about-table provides ease in serving and cleaning up.

A carefully arranged laundry is also a "step" or "heartsaver". Motion-saving ideas are carried into the laundry for the woman who is interested in conserving energy. The general plan of this unit follows a step by step process. The soiled clothes having been sorted are washed in the automatic washer. An overhead cabinet stores soaps, water softeners and other supplies. After washing, the clothes are transferred to the automatic dryer. From the dryer they are ready for storing or for ironing. The minimum handling of clothes not only saves energy, it also gives the homemaker time for mending or for other duties while her clothes are washing and drying.

The hot water necessary for operation of the washer and dishwasher is supplied by the automatic water heater located in this room.

Improving your kitchen may be only a matter of rearranging your equipment. Each item should be placed where it is most frequently used. Simple suggestions found in the "Heart Kitchen" are easily adapted and are extremely useful to every homemaker.

Dinas-Davis Marriage Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Orena Davis of Grenada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Eddie Davis and Rev. Johnny A. Dinas of Coffeeville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Dinas of Durant, was beautifully solemnized at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 26 at the First Methodist Church in Grenada with the pastor, Rev. Felix Sutphin and Rev. John Landrum, Baptist minister of Grenada officiating in the presence of a large and fashionable group of relatives and friends gathered here from several north Mississippi towns for the nuptials.

Music was presented by Mrs. John G. Hardy at the organ and soloist, Mrs. S. L. Moorehead.

The church was decorated with the traditional white and green motif. White princess baskets held white glads and mums interspersed with lacy ferns, and the vows were said beneath an archway entwined with ferns and white glads. Lovely palms and ferns were banked to form a backgrounw for the tableau.

Her bridal veil, made of double silk illusion, fell in graceful points from a coronation crown of complimenting lace embroidered with pearls and sequins. She carried a small white Bible surmounted by a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and two white orchids.

The brides twin sister, Mrs. Alton Moss, wore a gown of azure blue Venice lace combined with nylon tulle over matching taffeta. The lace basque featured a portrait yoke edged with narrow lace and brief sleeves. The ballerina length full shirt was worn over starched skirts. She wore a halo pompadour hat to match her dress and carried a bouquet of carnations and tube roses arranged on a fan made of white satin and maline.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. D. A. Richards, Jr. of Canton, Miss., Mrs. Leon Rhodes of Mt. Carmel, Ill., a sister of the bride, Mrs. S. L. Davis and Mrs. Hiram Davis of Grenada.

They wore identicla gowns of blue lace and tulle over taffeta. The strapless lace bodice featured an insert of tucked tulle across the front and the cover up shrug jacket of lace, cut in one piece with a raglaun sleeve was fashioned to form a heart shape neck line. The buffont tulle skirts were ballerina length.

They wore halo pompadour hats of blue import Swiss straw accented with giant pearls attached to brow veils and carried identical bouquets like the matron of honor.

The groom was attended by his best man, James Tartt of Brookhaven, and Constantine Dinas, twin brother of the groom; Hiram Davis, brother of the bride; Rev. James McCafferty Jr. of Tupelo, Rev. Dorsey Allen of Columbus and Orville Pate of Coffeeville.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for the bridal couple was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Guests were greeted and presented to the receiving line by Mrs. Irvin Johnson. They registered in the guest book presided over by Mrs. Steve Smith.

The beautiful three tiered wedding cake centered an elegantly arranged table featuring white linen draped with fern roping and white bows, gracefully tied clusters of white mums tube roses and white carnations. Silver trays held wedding bell cookies tied with pink and blue, and unusual pastries, made by the groom's mother. Mrs. Odena Stanley presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. Gaines Cooke. Mrs. Ernest Barnett presided at the punch bowl.

Guests were present from Grenada, Durant, Coffeeville, Jackson, Columbus, Memphis, Brookhaven, Calhoun City, Canton, Greenwood, Starkville, Lexington, Winona, Tchula and Los Angeles, alif.

For travel Mrs. Dinas wore a blue suit, pink and blue accessories and the orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Neely have returned from a trip to South Miss. Mrs. Neely was on vacation from her duties as manager of TWL Store in Grenada.

Mrs. Sharkey Campbell of Webb has been here this week with her mother Mrs. George Lamert who fell in her home last Thursday and sustained a scalp injury. Mrs. Lambert is improved.

Mrs. Anna Renshaw of Sulphur, La. visited her neice Mrs. Durrow Horn Sr. and Mr. Horn. This was her annual visit.

—LIBRARY NEWS—

The book Doctor To The Islands by Tom and Lydia Davis, which was so ably reviewed by Mrs. Anne Wilson Frye in Sunday's Commercial Appeal has been donated by her to the library in memory of Travis Allison. We quote part of her review:

'Here at last is a book written with full understanding about Polynesians by a Polynesian. Doctor Tom David is of mixed Welch-English-Polynesain blood, brought up on Rarotonga in the Cook Islands and educated in New Zealand. While there as a medical student he married a New Zealand girl of English descent. When he received his medical degree he returned with his wife to his native islands to serve his people as a medical representative of the British Colonial Government. As a Polynesian he knew his people. He gained their confidence in order to get them to submit t ohaving their ills cured. He and his wife struggled hard against red tape and ignorance, but being courageous and vociferous young couple, they made themselves heard. In six years Dr. Tom performed an apparent miracle and rose to the top of his profession.

The book is written by two distinctive personalities. Tom writes seriously and earnestly yet with understanding and humor; Lydia has a bright breezy style, well laced with anglicism and humor and understatement, but with no doubt in the reader's mind that she, too, is dedicated to her husband's work. — I think this will be one of the great books of the year. Everyone who reads it will be mentally and spiritually enriched.'

There is also the story of the record of crossing of the 12,00 miles of the Pacific in 133 days in their dream schooner, the Miru, a 45-footer bound fro Boston.

Anna Perott Rose who wrote Room For One More has now come out with the book The Gentle House. We feel that every person who comes into contact with children in any way should read it. It is a sermon, a lesson in child psychology, and an example of Christian service. If you think you have a problem in the rearing of your young American, just follow what Mrs. Rose suffered when she took into her home an eleven year old Latvian boy, a disabled child, so emotionally scarred that the foster family in whose home he had been placed found him impossible to handle. Physical violence, ingrained bitterness, even fears of insanity all confronted her, causing considerable risk. The turning point in Andris' surrender was in a russel with the Atlantic Ocean, when he saw a force greater than himself, and when he began to love the people who were trying to help him. The book closes on his return from the International Scout Jamboree, when Andris tells Mrs. Rose:

'So now I have seen America and have one more thing to tell you. America si so big, so safe, so buttiful. I look ot car window and I think yes, I will be citizen here and get that paper when I be old enough. You like?', 'Yes, I like.'

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

Dr. Clanton seems to have beat L. Friedman out of his erstwhile fishing partner, Henry Ray. In many respects, Friedman is about the sorriest fisherman in Grenada, even sorrier than I am.

Folks, wherever they are, are really hungry to read the name of somebody they know. For example, the Lloyd Stevensons get the GCW at Glendale, California. There is a dude there who scans our paper in the hope that he sees the name of one of his cousins, J. Z. Pryor, in the paper. J. Z. Pryor, according to our usual caption is the Cadillac Farmer. He usually stays at the Peabody in Memphis, or at the Buena Vista in Biloxi, but occasionally Cadillacs out to his farm on Sabogla Creek in Calhoun County. A. C. Black, out there, does ALL the work, but Pryor does the heavy looking.

Friedman wished off on the young ladies in the Knox home about 35-40 fish jointly caught by Friedman and me Sunday on Grenada Lake. The Knox sisters, truly generous in every respect, saw to it that the surplus fish were distributed around among fish-less folks.

Clifton Child's boy, Marine PFC Billy, will participate in Exercise Keystone in the Mediterranean this summer.

See where Adams County citizens will on General Election Day vote on the proposition to REdistrict Adams County which, if possible, is in worse mess than Grenada County.

Speaking of Grenada County, I saw the President of the County board, Ben Sanders, and his crowd up about old Kirkman fishing Saturday. Ben has quite a crowd.

There is not a prettier site on the lake than up on the creek near the McCormick old place, and less fish to be caught.

Grenada County's contribution to the ghastly roll of death on the Labor Day holidays was little Guy Green, Mary Jane's little boy, whose life was snuffed out while playing in the street.

Again, this is Tuesday morning: ALL the losers in the recently-closed campaign have paid this newspaper. So far, none of the winners have paid off.

It looks like the nation is merely marking time waiting for Stevenson. In the meantime, the gdrepublicans are merely muddling along.

Grenada County will just have to muddle along, the best it can, now that its two rising attorney, at least two of its many rising attorneys, down in Jackson filling their several seats in the Mississippi legislature, where they have been called by Governor Hugh White to be in position to do away with the constitutional provisions about FREE schools.

It appears, judging from the persistent murmerings, that nobody will have to be drafted to fill any local office in Grenada County.

Service Beyond Duty Brings Honor To State 'Phone Women

Mrs. Pauline Harlow, Evening Chief Operator, left, and Mrs. Levonne McCord, Operator, right, receive awards from C. E. Cox, Mississippi Traffic Superintendent.

GRENADA—Two operators for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company were cited for service above the call of duty following brief ceremonies at telephone headquarters here.

State officials of the telephone company were on hand to see C. E. Cox, State Traffic Superintendent present Mrs. Levonne McCord and Mrs. Pauline Harlow, operators in the Grenada office, with certificates of merit, an award given telephone men and women for outstanding or courageous service.

Each Certificate of Merit included an award of $50.00 in cash.

Other Southern Bell representatives attending the presentation ceremonies were: H. G. Turner, Mississippi General Manager; J. M. Phillips, State Manager, and Fred Weems, Chief Engineer for Mississippi, all of Jackson; and J. H. Foster, District Traffic Manager, of Tupelo. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Williams, of Grenada, who benefited from the special service for which the operators were rewarded.

The Story

Mrs. McCord was the operator on long-distance duty at 7:00 o'clock Monday night, last April 12, when a call was placed by Mrs. Williams from her home to Mr. Williams in Memphis, Tennessee. Before the conversation was completed the receiver of the Grenada telephone was replaced; and thinking he had been disconnected, he signalled the operator asking her to get Mrs. Williams back on the line and call him.

After repeated ringing, the Williams telephone was answered by a child. Mrs. McCord asked for his mother and he replied, "Mother won't talk to me." Mrs. McCord then called Mrs. Harlow, evening Chief operator, for assistance. Mrs. Harlow asked the little boy if his mother was sick and he said he couldn't tell because she wouldn't talk to him.

The two operators decided Mrs. Williams must have fainted and told the little fellow to wet a cloth and wipe his mother's face while they held the telephone. He came back and said it did not help.

Learning from the child that there were no nearby neighbors, the operators ascertained the names of other persons on the party line. One of them, Mrs. Howard Ross, was called, told the circumstances and asked to help. She assured them that Mrs. Williams would be cared for.

Checking later in the evening, the operators learned that Mrs. Williams had fainted and were assured that neighbors would remain with her as long as necessary.

In brief talks preceding refreshments, telephone company representatives commended the operators for upholding the best tradition of telephone service by prompt and vigorous action in securing help at a time when failure to do so might have had serious consequences.

Monuments to courage

Progress in science has not been without opposition. Ignorance, superstition, and reluctance to accept the new frequently have impeded advance. Use of an anesthetic to ease the pain of childbirth was once decried by a clergyman, who called it a decoy of Satan. An eminent physician rejected the explanation of childbed fever when it was revealed that unclean hands of attendants spread the disease. Jenner, Lister, and others endured crushing ridicule and criticism. The vast assortment of life-giving drugs available today represents the contributions of the world's great medical scientists, past and present—enduring monuments to their courage, conviction, and intellect.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN MISSISSIPPI IS CREATING NEW JOB OPPORTUNITIES in the field of Construction

When new industries come into a community, plants, warehouses and office buildings must be built to accommodate them. This alone would open up new job opportunities in the field of construction. However, the building prospects do not stop here. A recent study made by The Chamber of Commerce of The United States points out that for each 100 additional manufacturing employees in an area, approximately 117 households are added to the region; therefore, occupational opportunities for those engaged in construction are also opened up in supplying housing for these new citizens.

In 1953, Mississippi Power & Light Company assisted in the location of 17 new industries in its territory. The new job opportunities in construction and other vital fields of endeavor—brought about by this expansion—are important to the economic progress of our state.

As part of its overall job of "Helping Build Mississippi," Mississippi Power & Light Company maintains a fully-staffed Agricultural and Industrial Development Department, which works in close cooperation with state and local groups, agencies and citizens in helping secure more industries for Mississippi.

ARCHITECT — Before construction can be started on any project, much preparation and planning must be done by architects, draftsmen and construction engineers. New job opportunities in these fields are being made available through the increased construction developments brought about by Mississippi's industrial expansion.

SKILLED TRADES—Additional building needs offer job opportunities for carpenters, painters, plumbers, electricians and other skilled laborers necessary for the construction of plants and homes.

REALTOR—The urban population of our state has increased due to industrial development. This has created a definite need for additional housing developments and new property subdivisions in the cities of Mississippi. Such expansion increases occupational opportunities for real estate agents, salesmen, and office personnel.
